What's happening in K0?

Dear families,

One more exciting week has passed in K0! We have had a week full of reading, playing, counting and learning. Our scholars have worked very hard on the class book throughout the past week. The book is now complete and we cannot wait to share it with you!

All scholars continue to practice tracing or freely writing letters and their first names. We continue to practice the alphabet letters and corresponding sounds throughout the day as well.

In math we have begun small group work. This week, we had a group for number bingo and one for number memory and match. It went very well, and our scholars enjoyed it very much! Please continue to practice numeral recognition and one to one correspondence at home with your scholar. If you need ideas on how to do this, please let me know.

Please be sure to contact me with any questions or concerns via e-mail or cell phone (During emergencies or after school hours)

Warmly,
Ms. Autumn Ohegyi & Ms. Shaunice Taylor

Friendly reminders:

- Milk is not included in the $3.50 for hot lunch. It is an additional 60 cents
- Please pack forks and spoons with your scholars lunch if their food requires them
- We will continue going outside for recess unless it is called off by the main office due to extreme cold. Therefore, please send your child to school with a coat, boots, gloves, a hat and other warm clothing
- * Second semester report cards will be sent home February 3rd. A scheduled conference is highly encouraged to discuss your child's progress thus far in the year.

Having a great time in the snow!
