

K1 Happenings!

Issue 4

September 26-30

Hello K1 Families!

Happy Fall! This has been a wonderful week in the K1 classroom! K1 scholars are becoming much more comfortable with the routines of our school day and are now able to explore many more areas of our classroom! We have opened up the sensory table during center time where scholars are able to explore with sand and water. Art is also now an active part of our center rotation and this week scholars experimented with the mixing of two colors, red and white. Scholars have also been working hard on creating their own "family books" to go along with our first literacy unit on Families. Please look out for these in your child's folder.

Our two read alouds for this week were Whistle for Wille and Corduroy. We also have been reading books about fall and read a great story about the changing of the leaves called I am a Leaf. We are also starting Book Buddies with the fourth grade which will happen every other Friday afternoon. This is a great opportunity for younger and older scholars to come together and learn from one another.

Best,

Reminders:

- * Our Field Trip to Tougas Farm for apple and pumpkin picking is Friday October 14th, if you have not already done so, please return the permission slip and money as soon as possible
- * It would be great if you could have your child use the bathroom before coming into the classroom. We have noticed many children having to use the bathroom first thing in the morning.

Things you can practice with your scholar at home:

- Identifying written uppercase and lowercase letters
- Identifying letter names and sounds
- Counting up to 20
- The days of the week, months of the year and the four seasons
